The tornadoes that killed all the folks in Texas and Oklahoma last week was terrible. I am sure it is impossible to adjust to deaths associated with this type weather happenings but the property destruction has been experienced by most of the folks out there before. Our first week in Lawton, Oklahoma over twenty years ago was also our first exposure to the destructive force of a tornado. One day we visited an Army surplus store south of town and saw all king of "goodies". Before the week was out, one of the whirling winds had dipped down and leveled several buildings and clipped the end of the surplus store and scattered my "goodies". I stayed in Lawton and at Ft. Sill for a year and it seemed we got tornado warnings every weekend.

The weather in Coffee County was perfect for Easter this year. Even though it was a little nippy for Sunrise Service attenders, most remembered the pure cold of the year before. The sun soon warmed everything up and the balance of the day was fine.

The local Sunrise Service was set for 5:45 by someone that hadn't been fishing at daylight recently. If they had, they would have known that the sun is high in the sky by that time of the morning. However, the actual time is of little importance if the folks attending were in the right frame of mind. We did attend and as all ways the folks at Westside Baptist did things right and made everyone feel right at home.

Last week we received in the mail a copy of Governor James' proposed new constitution with a note that the good Governor wanted "to get the facts to you, and thus, to the people of Alabama." The letter indicated he expected some "misrepresentation by those who oppose it." The James proposal covers six and one-half full newspaper pages and it is efore needless for us to admit we haven't absorbed the entire thing at this point. Even though this draft is changed somewhat from others released by the governor, there are still areas that will bring on full scale war on Capitol Hill. Our one-on-one conversations with lawmakers indicate there is enough agreement with firm opinions to vote against the whole thing to kill a certain part, that the proposed constitution will not pass as long as it is considered as a whole. Divided into sections it fully fund several Alabama could be completed as early as could probably be passed in a couple of years as amendments and then the old laws all wiped off the books in one sweep. The end results would be a new constitution (what James wants) rather than failure of the whole thing.

Things are looking up in Washington this week as at least 115 of our national lawmakers have taken off on junkets to foreign countries at taxpayers expense. We are not happy at paying their travel expenses, but it is probably the lessor of two evils . . spend billions instead of the few million it takes for them to spend billions instead of the few million it takes for them to the spend billions instead of the few million it takes for them to the spend billions instead of the few million it takes for them to be about the business jobs--55,000 of these in Senator Donald Stewart didn't take the world tour, but came back to Alabama to meet with the voters. In Dothan, he was asked by a voter for an explanation of the 9 cent increase for gasoline at his favorite gas station in the past month or so. Well, Senator Donald hasn't learned that politicians don't admit to not having an answer so he just said, "I don't know." He gave the answer that had been given to him and it is the same one we have all heard and Stewart admitted the answer didn't satisfy anymore than it does you and I.

Speaking of Opp, I read in the Opp paper last week that our ballpark was 250-feet down the lines and even shorter in center. I don't know who teaches Math in Opp, but apparently the person who wrote about the length of our fence never learned how to measure distances! The park does measure 250 down the lines, but it is 285 in the power-alleys and 300 in center. I agree with the nickname "Pop-up Park," but the Opp sportswriter should get his facts straight next time before putting something

We had another full page of fish pictures last week and again neither I nor Ferrin were among the spotlighted anglers. I have never claimed to be a fisherman and don't really even like to fish, but Ferrin is a true fisherman and would rather fish than sleep. Keep watching, maybe Ferrin will make the fish page, yet!

THE ELBA CLIPPER tries to perform an impossible task, trying to be almost all things to almost all people.

Not even the best newspapers achieve that goal; but they try, within the limits of their resources.

It is a formidable challenge:

-- To report, accurately and fully, yet concisely, the news of the day at the local, state, national and international levels.

-- To entertain, with socials, school news and sports reporting.

-- To provide a forum for discussion of public issues.

-- To act as the consumers' friend, the homemakers' advisor and counselor, the buyers' guide, the sellers' marketplace, the voters' source of information on candidates and issues. -- To be the community's "bulletin board."

-- To comment, honestly, forthrightly, courageously and knowledgeably, on the important topics of the day.

Your ELBA CLIPPER works for you. It is your window to the world, your servant, your friend, your counselor, and your way of voicing your opinions to a wide audience.

No other enterprise can make that statement.
